

WITNESS HAS BEEN

Found Who Testifies He Saw Chauffeur Bate Murdered.

Aroused By the Chug-Chug

Of An Automobile and Words Indicating a Quarrel Among Those In It, He Went to Window, and Saw Person in Rear Seat Shoot.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—An eye witness of the mysterious murder of chauffeur John W. Bates, Jr., has been found in John Hennes, a young farmer who lives one mile north of the place on Archer Road at which the automobile containing Bates' body was discovered. Today, Hennes gave to the police a detailed account of his experiences on the night of the murder. Hennes says he was aroused about 11 o'clock by "the chug-chug of an automobile." At first he did not pay any attention to it, because many automobiles pass along that road. Just as the machine neared his place, however, he heard loud voices as if the occupants of the machine were quarreling. He arose from bed, drew aside the curtain of a window and looked out. About 100 feet away, passing in front of the house he saw the outlines of an automobile. The machine seemed to be swaying from side to side, its occupants were talking loudly, and one of them seemed to be standing up in the rear seat. Suddenly the person in the rear held the revolver at arms length and fired straight ahead. The machine continued on its way and Hennes heard no more. He believed that nobody was hurt until he learned of the murder.

Reported Capture.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—The murderer of William Bates, the chauffeur, whose dead body was found in an automobile near Le Mont, is reported to have been captured at a small station on the Rock Island railroad between Monook and Morris, Illinois.

ANXIOUS TO SEE AMERICA'S FLAG

Waving From the Mastheads of the Ships That Are Carrying This Country's Mammoth Foreign Commerce On the High Seas.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 22.—At a meeting of prominent business men held at the Union club here, the National Merchant Marine League of the United States has been organized with the object of restoring the American flag to the high seas. The following officers were elected: President, Harvey D. Goulder; vice president, Aaron Vanderbilt; secretary, J. A. Penton; treasurer, J. J. Sullivan.

The resolution adopted declares that the foreign commerce of the United States has grown to the great total of $2,500,000,000 per annum, and the country's whole prosperity depends upon the undisturbed continuation of this commerce. Yet it is being carried over the sea today under foreign flags. Tonnage of American trade aggregate only 875,000 tons, while there is not today a single ship building anywhere in the United States for this trade. The situation is critical, and calls for immediate action.

Presidents from each state will later be chosen in order to make it national in scope.

ADJUSTMENT WILL AMOUNT

To an Advance of About Twenty-Five Percent for Catholic Knights.

Columbus, Nov. 22.—The Catholic Knights of America today decided to adopt the readjustment of insurance rates made last August by the supreme council.

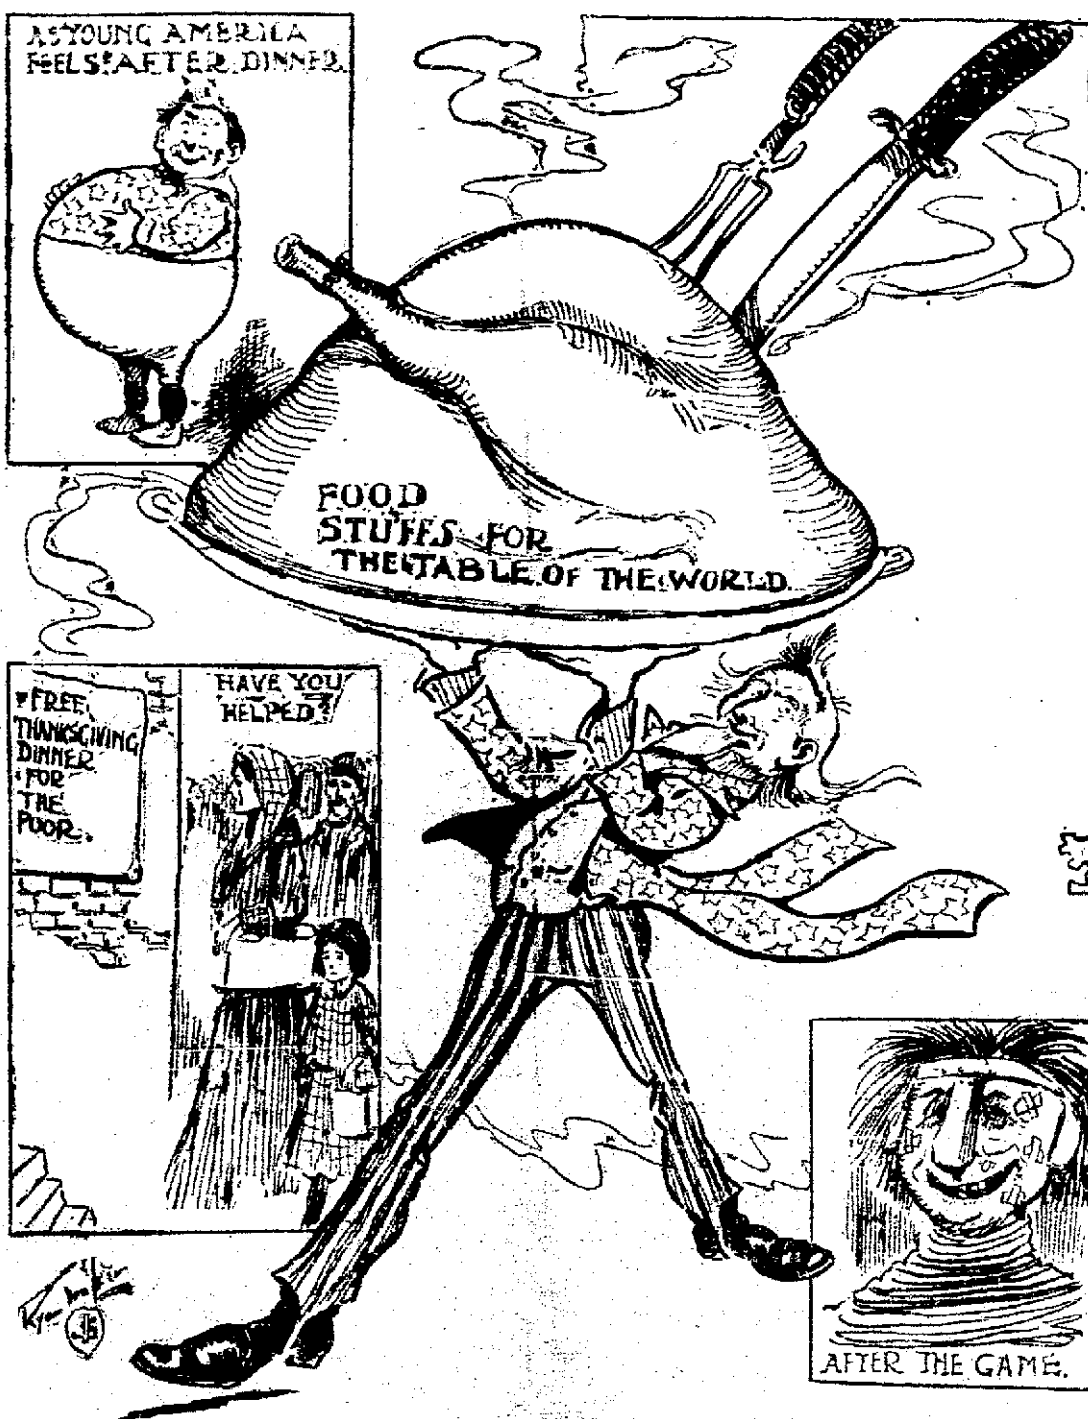

The adjustment will amount to a rise in the rate in the aggregate of about 25 per cent. It is intended to lighten the rates for young members. For persons advancing in years, the proposed change will mean a rise in the rates, however, they will be helped to pay their assessments with money loaned them from the sinking fund of the general order, which now amounts to $700,000. This is an altogether new and novel feature. The money thus loaned must be paid back into the treasury of the order, from the face of the policy, at the death of the holder.

RIGHT KIND OF CHARITY.

London, Nov. 22.—A provincial paper says Andrew Carnegie has purchased, or is about to purchase, for $3,750,000, Lea Park, the late Whitaker Wright's estate in Surrey, with the object of establishing a national convalescent home.

MAN IDENTIFIED.

Mahoney City, Pa., Nov. 22.—James Gaffney, of Williamsport, Pa., today identified the body of the man found here last Sunday and believed to have been murdered as that of John T. Doyle, a soap finisher of Patterson, N. J. Gaffney says he saw Doyle in Williamsport last Thursday. A sister and two brothers of Doyle reside in Patterson.

A THANKSGIVING MEDLEY.

GOING AFTER POSTMASTERS.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Acting First Assistant Postmaster General Jno. Howley in his annual report to the postmaster general, issued yesterday, reviews the efforts made by the department to suppress a tendency at certain offices to resort to alleged irregular and fraudulent methods to increase receipts in order to secure increased salary of the postmasters. The campaign against these irregularities, Mr. Howley says, has resulted in the reduction of salaries in about forty offices, and, in a few instances, in relegating the offices to lower grades.

ALL SAFE.

Highland Light, Mass., Nov. 22.—The barges Buffalo and Burden, which broke adrift from the tug Lehigh, Sunday night, today were found by the tug fifteen miles east of Highland Light. The tug proceeded with them to Boston. All on board were well and the barges had met with no mishap.

INJUNCTION IS ASKED FOR.

Want Merger of St. Louis Transit Co. With United Railways Co. Stopped.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 22.—An application for an injunction to restrain the St. Louis Transit Co., the United Railways Co., the National Bank of Commerce and the directors of these corporations, who are included among the defendants, from carrying out the proposed merger or transfer of stock of the Transit Co., to the United Railways Co., were filed by J. Brooks Johnson, in the St. Louis circuit court yesterday.

Mr. Johnson charges that the movement looking toward the absorption of the Transit Co., by the United Railways Co., means the payment of "an unlawful commission to Brown Bros. & Co. of New York, controlling stockholders of the United Railways Co."

THE PENNSY READY FOR A TRIAL TRIP.

Boston, Nov. 22.—The new United States cruiser Pennsylvania arrived in Boston Harbor today from New York, for her official trial trip over the Cape Ann course. The Pennsylvania like her sister ships, the West Virginia and Colorado, must attain an average speed of 22 knots for four consecutive hours to reach contract requirements. A meeting of the government trial board to decide upon the time of the trial and to make other necessary arrangements, has been called for today.

WILL Open the Offices in Chicago

Very Shortly
For Carrying Out the Plan

Of Building a Great Subway Railroad in the City of Chicago.

Thirty Five Railroads Own Control
of Present Tunnel System, and
They Expect to Get Into Heart of City.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Details of the $50,000,000 Chicago subway plan were learned today, showing that offices will be opened in Chicago within 30 days. Sir Ernest Cassett, the financial adviser of the King of England, accompanied by Robert Flemming, a prominent English capitalist, and Jacob Schiff, head of the International Banking House of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., arrived in Chicago yesterday. The party conferred with local bankers, and subsequently inspected the plan of the Illinois Tunnel Co.

During the visit of these moneyed men in La Salle street, it developed that Kuhn, Loeb & Co., have taken a substantial interest in the Illinois Tunnel Co., and have practically guaranteed all the funds which may be necessary to carry out the plans of this organization. What the ultimate scheme is could not be positively ascertained, but there was suggestion that the existing tunnel would be expanded for use far beyond the original intention. It was also hinted that the English capitalists would invest money in local enterprises.

With the incorporation of the Chicago Subway company and the sale of 66 1-3 per cent of the stock of the Illinois Tunnel, the control of the great underground freight transportation project passes into the hands of men who control 90 per cent of steam railroads having terminals in Chicago. This means that the underground railway system, which had its inception in a franchise for an independent telephone system, but which was later increased in scope, has become a part of the great trans-continental railway system of the country. It means that the thirty-five great systems which enter Chicago will be enabled to lay down their merchandise in the basements of the principal buildings and manufacturing plants in the city.

WANT AN ARBITRATOR.

London, Nov. 22.—A movement is on foot to get President Roosevelt to arbitrate the difference between Panama and the corporation of foreign bond holders in regard to the Colombia debt. A meeting of the Colombia commission of the corporation has been summoned to consider the best means of recovery from Panama of a portion of the $10,000,000 paid by the United States in connection with the canal and it is proposed to call a public meeting of the Colombian bond holders for the purpose of requesting President Roosevelt to arbitrate as to the proportion of this amount the new republic ought to pay towards the liquidation of Colombia's debt.

STILL CRITICAL.

New York, Nov. 22.—The condition of Carl Buanz, the German consul general, who is suffering from pneumonia and the effects of a recent operation for appendicitis, was reported today as still critical.

DURING HIGH TIDE TONIGHT

Another Attempt Will be Made to Pull Stranded Sicilian Prince
Into Deep Water.

New York, Nov. 22.—The steamship Sicilian Prince was still ashore today in the sand bar at Long Beach, the attempt made at high tide early today to pull her off having been unsuccessful. She remained in the same position as yesterday, with a list to starboard. The wrecking crews put out anchors to hold the vessel and prevent her from being driven farther on the shore, although the sea was smooth and danger of damage from that source had been much reduced. During the morning passengers' baggage was taken out and loaded on a barge for removal to the city, while lighters alongside the steamer took out the cargo. This lightening of the vessel followed the emptying of the water ballast and removal of the coal, so that it was hoped that the attempts to pull her off at high water tonight would meet with success.

ALL WILL START.

Pittsburg, Nov. 22.—Every idle coke oven in the Connellsville region owned by the H. V. Frick Coke Company, will be put in full operation this week. Orders to that effect were issued today. The company owns about 16,000 ovens in the region, and of this number about 4,000 have been idle for some time. Employment will be given to from 4,000 to 6,000 men, and, according to the present plans of the company, all its coke works will be operated to their full capacity during the winter.

FIVE MEN HAD BEEN

Assigned To Kill Weakly, a Non-Union-ist In Cincinnati,

Is Charge Detectives Make.

They Also Allege Against Certain Strikers That They Plotted to Poison Several Workmen Who Were Stopping at Large Boarding House. Arrests Made.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 22.—Following the arrest of Thomas Bracken, a union founder at Detroit, last night for the alleged murder on October 7th, of Samuel Weakly, a non-union foundry worker, detectives today charge two plots against certain strikers, one for the murder of Weakly, and the other for the poisoning of several others who were stopping at a large boarding house.

Officers have been sent to Detroit for Bracken who came originally from Williamstown, Ky. He will be brought here as soon as requisition papers are secured. Bracken has been under surveillance of detectives for over a month.

Wm. Friend, alias Wm. Patton, also a union foundry workman, who was with the strikers, is now in jail here charged as the principal in the murder of Weakly. The foundry workers of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport have been on strike the greater part of the year. Following repeated disturbances the employers secured an injunction against interference with the new men and several were arrested for disregarding orders of the court.

After the murder of Weakly, at a Sunday meeting of the unions, half a dozen detectives, disguised as workmen secured union cards and joined the strikers in order to gather evidence. The detectives now claim to have evidence involving a number of union moulders not only in the plot to kill Weakly, but also in the general plot to poison other non-union men.

Brown, a companion of Weakly escaped by running into a store and hiding under the counter. It is stated that five men had been assigned to kill Weakly and Brown, and that the other three have left the state, but are under constant surveillance, of detectives. It is alleged that the plot to poison the non-union moulders was to have gone into effect tomorrow night. One of the detectives who says he was assigned to aid in the poisoning claims to have proof that the poison had been bought.

A MOTHER HELD BABY

So That In Falling the Infant Escaped Uninjured.

Three Women Fatally Hurt

And Five Firemen Seriously Injured In a Blaze That Destroyed Two Buildings In Brooklyn Early This Morning. Thirty-Four People Were Rescued.

New York, Nov. 22.—Three women were probably fatally hurt and five firemen were injured severely in a blaze that destroyed two buildings in Brooklyn early today.

The fire started in the cellar of a drug store at Fulton and Adelphi streets. Three upper floors were occupied by three families consisting of fifteen persons.

The flames spread upward so quickly that when the sleeping tenants were aroused by the smoke and crackling flames they found all escape by the stairways had been cut off.

Bella Hill, Florence Seabrook and Hetta Richardson, all of whom lived on the fourth floor, made their way down one story and out onto a cornice. Mrs. Seabrook had her baby in her arms. The cornice gave way beneath the combined weight of the women and they were precipitated to the ground.

Mrs. Seabrook clasped the infant to her breast in such a way that when she struck the sidewalk the little one escaped injury. The women were hurriedly carried to a hospital where their injuries were pronounced probably fatal.

Eight families, comprising thirty-four persons, escaped or were rescued from a building adjoining the drug store before the house was destroyed. The firemen displayed great bravery in the work of rescue and two of them fell from a swerving ladder two stories above the street. Three others were badly cut by falling debris. The financial loss was small.

PATRIOTIC JAPS.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Collector of the port of San Francisco says that an exceptionally large amount of Japanese goods are coming here, and that the increase of importation has been so large that the custom house officials cannot handle the goods. The cause of the exceptionally heavy importations is that the Japanese people are offering their manufacturers at low prices to help raise money for carrying on the war with Russia.

BURGLARIES AT SPENCERVILLE.

Robert Sutton Attempts to Land On a Robber's Head With an Iron Poker But Hits a Rocker.

During the past few days the citizens of Spencerville have been thrown into a state of excitement, and the town has been the scene of a series of burglaries. The first was committed during the early hours of the morning at the residence of a prominent citizen. The burglar, who was seen by the owner, attempted to escape by a back window. The owner, Robert Sutton, a prominent citizen of the village, who had made one of the burglars a fit subject for either a hospital or a corner's inquest. "Bob" was aroused from his slumbers about 12 o'clock night before last by an unusual noise outside of the house. He arose and peered through an east window but saw no one and returned to his bed. A few minutes later he was again disturbed and going to a south window he was startled to see a man deliberately removing the panes from around one of the windows. There was not a firearm in the house so Bob armed himself with a four-foot iron poker and beside that window he struck a pose that would have made a golf devotee green with envy. Bob waited until he saw the burglar's head near the window glass and then—
Crash! ! !
But not a glass was broken and under the white glare of a distant arc lamp Sutton could clearly discern the retreating form of the burglar unscathed.
In the darkness that enveloped the room, Sutton had failed to see the high back of his favorite rocking chair which had stood directly in the path of his Lajolo swing.

SOME OF PATIENTS RESTORED TO HEALTH.

Tent Colony Instituted at Columbus State Hospital for Treatment of Tuberculosis Has Proved That It Is Meritorious.

Columbus, O., Nov. 22.—The report of Dr. George Stockton, of the Columbus state hospital filed with the Board of trustees today, is especially interesting in its reference to the work of the tuberculosis tent colony which has been maintained at the institution the past two years. In 1903 the colony consisted of three sleeping tents with a capacity of eight persons each. No men were treated in 1903. At the beginning of the season of 1904, provision was made for 36 male cases and 48 women. Ninety-six patients were treated in the colony during the summer. Of these ninety-six cases, fourteen were admitted in the third stage of the disease. There were five deaths in the camp during the summer, all of which were patients in the last stages of the disease.

In the case of those who had been admitted in the last stages of the disease it cannot be said that any benefits were derived except to prolong the lives of those so afflicted. Some of the patients recovered entirely, demonstrating the practical value of the colony. Others showed marked improvement.

The weight of each patient was recorded weekly and at the end of the season shown these results: Twenty-two lost in weight; five remained the same in weight; sixty-nine gained in weight; the women gained on an average of 5.37 pounds; they lost on an average of 2.1 pounds. The men gained on an average of 8.1 pounds and the average loss was only .96. At an expense of $840 the capacity of the colony was increased from 25 patients to 85.

NOTHING STARTLING IN THE TESTIMONY.

Cabby Who Was Driving When Fatal Shot Was Fired, Says Nan Patterson Ordered Him to Drug Store.

New York, Nov. 22.—Search for a defendant herself would go on, the stand and tell of her acquaintance with Young could have created more public interest than the report that the dead bookmaker's widow would appear in court. Since the day her husband died, Mrs. Young has remained in seclusion, except when she called at the district attorney's office and testified before the grand jury. During the trial she has not appeared in the court room but it is said she has followed all the proceedings from an adjoining room.

A big crowd was in the court room when the trial was resumed. Among the spectators sat Milton W. Hazen, one of the men who claims to have seen Young fire the shot which caused his death. Several police officers were called to the stand in rapid succession and examined briefly regarding happenings in the police station when Miss Patterson was brought there under arrest.

Captain Sweney, who was in charge of the station house at the time, identified the revolver which he said was found in Young's pocket and which, he said, he subsequently turned over to Assistant District Attorney Garvin with the three loaded cartridges and the exploded shells. Miss Patterson, he said, told him the story of the ride down town and declared that she had not seen the shooting. She denied that she had any words with Young, and said that she had picked up the revolver which fell from Young's hand when he fired the fatal shot, and placed it in his pocket.

Frederick D. Michaels, who was driving the hansom cab in which Young was shot, said the first he knew of any trouble in the cab was when he heard the sound of a pistol shot and his startled horse sprang forward.

A moment later Miss Patterson opened the trap door and told him to drive to a drug store. He followed her instructions without making any investigation and did not look inside the cab when the drug clerk refused to treat the injured man and ordered him taken to a hospital with all speed.

Michaels said he picked up Young at Miss Patterson's home and drove him to a south window he was startled to see a man deliberately removing the panes from around one of the windows. There was not a firearm in the house so Bob armed himself with a four-foot iron poker and beside that window he struck a pose that would have made a golf devotee green with envy. Bob waited until he saw the burglar's head near the window glass and then—
Crash! ! !
But not a glass was broken and under the white glare of a distant arc lamp Sutton could clearly discern the retreating form of the burglar unscathed.

In the darkness that enveloped the room, Sutton had failed to see the high back of his favorite rocking chair which had stood directly in the path of his Lajolo swing.

And the Danger of a Public Lynching Bee at Lexington, Ky., Seems to Have Passed.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 22.—The mob that threatened to lynch the negroes held in jail here for killing a white man last Sunday night, and attempting to kill other whites dispersed as day dawned. The troops and extra police have also retired and the jail is guarded now only by deputies. It is believed that all danger of lynching is passed as the authorities cannot now be taken by surprise and the jail will be well guarded at night with troops in readiness for call suddenly. The preliminary hearing of the negroes today was the cause of much excitement. They were taken to the court house about 11 o'clock in a patrol wagon guarded by twelve policemen. A large crowd had gathered at the jail and the streets were lined with shouting people. The patrol wagon was driven at breakneck speed to the court house, where, after a preliminary hearing, the negroes were held to the grand jury. The same exciting scenes attended the return of the negroes to the jail. The doors of the jail were open when the patrol wagon returned, and the negroes were literally thrown through the entrance and the doors slammed in the face of the mob which surged around the place.

GLOVES

Money and Knife Stolen From

School Room

In the Elizabeth Street Building.

Legislators Discuss Colonel Hobart's Request for Water and Sewer.

South Side Items of Interest as Gathered Here and There for Times-Democrat Readers.

Yesterday it was discovered that sometime between Saturday afternoon and Monday morning, a thief or thieves, had entered the south Elizabeth school building and appropriated to their own use several articles not their own.

One of the teachers, Miss Morris, is loser to the extent of a pearl handled knife, 53 cents in money and a new pair of gloves. The thief was very considerate, however, as an old pair of gloves were left on the desk to replace the new ones.

While there is a suspicion as to who perpetrated the offense, yet it is not positively known.

Operation Thought Necessary.
For several days Miss Fuschia Hillford, of south Union street, has been very ill, and an intense sufferer. Her ailment has developed into appendicitis, and the attending physician says an operation will be necessary.

Thought It a Shame.
Quite an interesting discussion took place last evening at Kibby Corners, in regard to the city officials' tardiness in not obliging Col. Hobart, of the C. & L. M. railroad, who asks that a sewer and water mains be constructed, leading to the new depot on Grand avenue. The subject was in the hands of several members of the Kibby Corner legislature, and while the improvement asked for mostly concerns north Lima, yet it is of interest to the south side to some extent. Each speaker thought the railroad a benefit to the city, and expressed as their opinion that Hobart's wish should be granted, not next summer, but at once, as the sooner the improvements were completed, the better for all concerned, and the prouder Lima could be of her railroad facilities.

POISON LEGISLATION.
Philadelphia Ledger—Danger to health and life from poisonous substances in papers and dress fabrics is no imaginary one, as shown by numerous instances in medical annals and by the laws of many countries regulating the amount of poison to be allowed in coloring such materials. America has no general statute on the subject, and Massachusetts is the only state which has legislated in restraint of the use of arsenic. The Massachusetts act, which may be regarded as the standard in this country, fixes as the safe limit, beyond which manufacturers may not go without incurring penalty, one-tenth grain per square yard of wall paper and one-hundredth grain in dress goods. Two of the experts of the bureau of chemistry of the United States department of agriculture have lately made an exhaustive inquiry as to the extent of the evil here, and their conclusions show that the limits set by the Massachusetts law are now sufficiently strict. An exhaustive examination of wall papers indicated that few samples contained more arsenic than 0.1 grain per square yard, but that it was very doubtful whether that proportion of the poison was entirely harmless. While it was urged that there is no reason why papers cannot be made that contain no arsenic at all, it was recommended that the limit be made 0.5 grain per square yard. As to dress fabrics, carpets, rugs and fur rugs, the results were less satisfactory. Excessive amounts of arsenic being found, varying from 5 to 170 times as much as should be allowed in the case of furs for dress purposes. Dress goods have improved in recent years in respect to their arsenical ingredient, but the evil is still of sufficient proportions to justify the fixing of a legal limit of not exceeding 0.05 grain per square yard.

The Property as Assets

Of the Bank

And Action Is Brought In Court.

Receiver Makes Application Today to Recover Judgment Against Leighton

And Restrains Him From Disposing of Property Alleged to Have Been Purchased With the Bank's Money.

Following an application filed yesterday asking permission of the court for the receiver to bring such actions as might be deemed necessary in an adjustment of the affairs of the South Side bank, a petition was presented by Welty & Downing, representing receiver Quail, today, praying for a judgment against president Leighton, and a restraining order to prevent him from disposing of property now in his name.

The receiver claims that there is due him from president Leighton the sum of $12,250.10, and the petition, in support of the judgment asked for, says that Leighton is a director of the Lima Trust and Savings Bank Co., where he had full charge. That he made loans to himself, and gave individual notes to the amount of $11,000, and used the money in various investments, including the buying of real estate, all of which investments and property now held by Leighton being the property of the Lima Trust and Savings Bank Co.

That he had disposed of this property and is now and will in the future dispose of all his property to the great injury of the creditors and depositors unless restrained by the court. Judgment for the amount named is asked for and a restraining order, on both of which Judge Cunningham will probably take action this afternoon.

A Gambling Case.
James Montague, of Spencerville, is defendant in an action brought by Thos. C. Coit, to recover gambling losses said to amount to $380, and exemplary damages, allowed by law in such cases, in the sum of $500. The case was submitted to the jury this morning and is being argued this afternoon.

ARRANGED ALPHABETICALLY.

So great an authority on circus matters as Tody Hamilton vouches for the truthfulness of the following story. It was with an English provincial circus, and business had been bad. Finally the performers, with a tumbler named Zeno at their head, went to the management and insisted on receiving their back pay. They were put off repeatedly. A definite date was at last promised, but the time arrived and still there was no money. Zeno expostulated. Whereupon the management explained that it had commenced to pay salaries, commencing with the names beginning with A, and so on, but that the money had run out somewhere in the S's. The company walked home.

A year later Zeno appeared at the office of the circus and asked for an engagement.

"Certainly," said the manager. "We will take you on at an increased salary. Now let me enter your name. Mr. Zeno is it not?"

"One moment," said the performer. "This year my name is Ajax."

THE STAGE

At the Faurot opera house on Thursday, matinee and night, theatre goers will have an opportunity to witness Mr. M. B. Raymond's beautiful production of Augustus Thomas' charming comedy-drama, "Arizona." Since this play was produced, it has, without doubt, made one of the most pronounced artistic and financial successes of this decade. In the time "Arizona" has been before the public it has played in more cities in the union than any other play now upon the American stage. The author, Mr. Thomas, has given to the stage many successful pieces, but he has admitted himself that "Arizona" is the premier effort of his career. "Arizona" is a true story of American life, embodying the characteristic phases of a class of people never before introduced to the American public. It abounds in thrilling situations, not of the melodramatic type, but of the kind which holds the audience spell bound. It is full of pathetic love passages which bring tears to the eyes of the most hardened theatre-goers, only to be relieved next moment by the unctuous humor supplied by Mr. Thomas' comedy efforts which have been pronounced by both press and public to be unexcelled. The heart interest in "Arizona" is of the highest order, dealing as it does with the love of a stern soldier for his wife, who is at least twenty years younger than he, and on whom an exciting existence does not pall. Her soldier husband is jealous to an alarming degree, thereby furnishing for the author an excusable chance for the plot of the play. The characters introduced are all well known to the public, consisting as they do of Canby, the ranchman, who has made a success in the beautiful Aravaipa Valley near which is situated the Fort which lies in law commands. His two beautiful daughters, his wife, a Chinaman, a Mexican vaquero, cowboys, ranchmen, etc., constitute this part of the play. While the Colonel of the U. S. cavalry and his Captain Lieutenant and other officers and cavalrymen make up the rest of the play. Mr. Raymond has given to this production the closest attention possible to every detail and has secured for members of the cast people of the highest standing in the profession and those who are especially adapted for the characters they assume. The scenic investitures are almost perfect reproductions of the actual scenes and localities depicted in the play, taken from sketches made on the spot by the eminent artist, Frederick Remington. Canby's ranch, situated in the midst of the beautiful Aravaipa Valley, with its abode buildings seen in the distance, is a particularly striking picture and one which the audience never fails to applaud. The other scenes are equally as strong, bringing forth a picture-queeness which can only be obtained from the state of Arizona.

S. Webster & Co., Udon, Ontario, Canada. For sale by all druggists.

OHIO'S NEXT CAMPAIGN.

Under this caption, F. L. Dushman, who is editor of the Toledo Blade, and who has been traveling over the state interviewing prominent republicans as to the re-nomination for governor, says:

"It has been the custom in Ohio,
more especially in recent years, for the republican party to give a second nomination to those public servants
who have acceptably filled the positions to which they had been elected.
This applies to incumbents of all offices from chief executive to township
trustee. The past two or three years have witnessed an effort to extend the tenure of office and have it cover
three terms. State Auditor Gilbert is now serving his third term and Secretary of State Layla was elected, a few days ago, for the third term. The third term idea is not popular, and Mr. Layla ran many votes behind his ticket.

"Of course, custom only gives the impetus of an office the second nomination. There are times when it is unwise to do so. Ohio republicans are discussing such a proposition at this time. Governor Herrick is serving his first term. Next year his successor will be elected. Mr. Herrick desires a re-nomination. Party custom demands he should have it. His friends are insisting there should be no opposition in convention.

"Governor Herrick has aroused antagonisms which are not wholly confined to the democratic party. It is generally conceded that if re-nominated he cannot poll his party's strength.
His official career has not at all respects the approval of many of the voters of his own party.

"With the convention months ahead,
there is general discussion as to the governor's availability as a candidate.
Leaders who are friendly to him insist on his re-nomination. They control the party machinery, and may be able to create the action of the convention. But they must rely on the republican voters to elect him. How strong is the opposition? Is the governor enough weaker than his party
as to jeopardize the success of local tickets in close counties? Is the dissatisfaction of a nature which will disappear with time, or is it serious enough to dissipate the 350,000 plurality given to Roosevelt this year?

"The independent voter has become a factor to be reckoned with. The return to Massachusetts, Minnesota
and Missouri this year are valuable object lessons to politicians. It is demonstrated that Governor Herrick
is weak enough to endanger the close counties from custom should be set aside and another candidate named to head next year's ticket. If it is proved that this talk of opposition has no real foundation, then custom should prevail.

Mr. Dushman is mild in his statements, when it is taken into consideration that the Blade of which he is the political thinker, is bitterly opposed to the re-nomination of Herrick,
and it is generally agreed that it will fight him to a finish.

One wholesome feature, however,
in Mr. Dushman's editorial is the intimation that should Herrick be intimated that should Herrick be intimated to lead the party again in Ohio, it is

It's your Cue

not a remote possibility that the

the gubernatorial fight.

AMOUNT OF
TESTIMONY TO

Be Presented Will Likely Continue
Sessions of Interstate Commission All Week.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 22.—Owing to the large amount of testimony to be presented by Philadelphia in its efforts to maintain the grain
freight differential it is likely that the sessions of the interstate commerce commission will be protracted until the end of the week. No session will be held on Thanksgiving day. When the session opened today, Frank L.
Neil, senior member of the shipping
firm of Peter Wright & Sons, resumed
his testimony, which commenced yesterday. Mr. Neil stated that conditions had changed that there was no need for storing great quantities of grain. He said that there was not 1,400,000 bushels of wheat in New York or at any other port at the present time. Mr.
Neil testified that manufactured goods
were exported from Philadelphia by way of New York by either canal or rail. He then went into statistics in an endeavor to show that this city
and several other ports were discriminated against in rates in the interest of New York.

SPECIAL SERVICES EVERY NIGHT.

The second week of meetings under the leadership of Mrs. Edith L.
Peaked opened with a full house and great interest. Sunday, the building was too small for the number desiring to hear her. She is a singer as well as a preacher. Last night she
and Mrs. Curry sang a beautiful duet.
Her subject tonight will be "Sowing and Reaping." Here is an opportunity to see life and its results from God's point of view. Good music every night. Seven thirty is the hour.

WATER

Is Low in the City
Reservoirs.

Record Broken

By Two Feet In the Supply at Hand.

A New Well Being Drilled
at the West Side Pumping Station.

Effort Will Be Made to Supply Half
of the City From That Source
Within a Few Days—A Mystery Solved.

Do you know that the city of Lima
is again seriously threatened with a water famine?

There is today only 4 feet and 5 inch of water in the pump well at the city water works reservoirs and unless
an additional source of supply is acquired within a few days the situation
may become sufficiently alarming to send insurance rates skywards.

The officials of the water works department are trying hard to keep the supply up to the demands of consumption and they solicit the co-operation of consumers who may relieve the stress of the situation materially by being as economical as possible in the use of the city water. The pumps at the west side pump station are being operated to the full extent of the supply the wells at that station affords
and another well which is now being drilled may reach the water supply by tomorrow. An additional pump will be installed in service when the new well is completed and an effort will be made to force the water from the west side far enough into the mains
to supply half of the city from the west side source. The water from that station is now pumped into the mains as far as McDonnell street.

The water in the reservoirs at the main station is now being lowered at the rate of one inch per day and is already lower than it ever was before.
One year ago today, when a famine
was threatened, the water stood at a depth of 6 feet and 5 inches in the pump well.

For some time the engineers at the main station have had to watch their gauges at about 4 o'clock each morning, on account of the sudden dropping off of the pressure by a heavy
drawing off of water from the mains.
An investigation proved that the cause was at the L. E. & W. shops, where water is pumped with a high pressure pump through a six inch line
into a softening tank. Master Mechanic Hill was informed of the effect on the heavy pumping system and he has already taken steps to provide relief.

HAD AN EXAMPLE.

Huntington, Nov. 22.—Pearl, daughter of Oscar Jones, took carbolic acid

the suicide of Mrs. Fennessy, of Cincinnati, was a heroic way to die.

THE MARKETS.

New York, Nov. 22.—The stock market opened decidedly irregular today and the changes were generally small either way. Five thousand shares of United States Steel preferred sold at 89 3/4 and 89 1/2, compared with 89 1/4, last night, and 3,000 shares
of the common sold at 38 and 37 1/2, compared with 38 last night. Reading was in active demand at an advance of a half, and General Electric rose 1 1/2.

Cleveland Produce.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 22.—Chickens

light 9 to 9 1/2; ducks colored 15c;
white 12 1/2; turkeys 17c; geese 12 to 13 cents.

wethers, $4.40 to $5.00; fair to choice
mixed, $3.50 to $4.30; native lambs, $4.25
to $4.15.

Boston Wool Market.

Boston, Nov. 22.—The available
supply of wool on the market has become well reduced with manufacturers still seeking supplies. Prices are very firm and purchases are made at full prices. Fine fleece wools are quiet, but firm, while medium grades

of domestic fleeces are well reduced
in stock. Unwashed Ohio delaines, 28c; unmerchandise, 25c to 30c; unwashed clothing, 24c; medium unwashed Ohio fleeces, 31c to 32c for one quarter and three eighths bloods, others about 26c to 31c. Pulled wools firm on the scored base of 50c to 53c for
B supers, with A supers at 55c to 57c.

LEASE

For Control of College Is Ratified.

The College Association held a meeting last night at which the report of the committee appointed to prepare the lease was ratified, and on December 24th, the institution passes into the control of J. B. Adkins and his associates.

The report was made by Dr. Baxter,
Theo. Roush, Aaron Albert, Prof.
Ackerman and F. E. Burkhardt, the committee appointed to draw up the lease.

THE POWER OF SONG.

Washington Star.—It is not fair to conclude that all music is bad. This conclusion is perhaps warranted by street pianos, flat pianos, automatically, more automatic pianists and persistent vocalists; but there are many extenuating circumstances to be urged in behalf of music. On the principle that there is some good in everything, it is really easier to defend music than most people, who have heard much of it, believe.

It must be one of the most comforting things in the world for young,
brave and energetic musicians to read
those lines of "Romeo and Juliet" which tell that
"Naught upon the earth so vile doth
live, but to the earth some special good doth give."

To prove that even music has its uses it is only necessary to refer to a news story which appeared in a Philadelphia paper yesterday under these headlines: "Cine in Music Led to Finding Lost Jewels—A Lady Inspired by Words of 'Holy City' Recovered a Bag of Valuables—Had Left Them Lying by Roadside Pump." The story runs that the lady returned from an automobile ride and missed her jewels. She was already distracted when the hotel orchestra struck up that lively tune, "The Holy City." She repeated the words, "Last night I lay asleeping; there came a dream so fair; I stood in old Jerusalem, beside the temple there." The words recalled to the lady that she had left her
jewels beside a pump near a country
church. In an automobile she rushed back to the pump and retrieved in triumph. This is one of the strongest tests of the power of song.

It would be mere speculation to suggest that the lady might have been reminded of the pump incident by the
"Old Oaken Bucket." "I'm on the Water Wagon Now." "Down Where the Pump Water Flows." "Pumping on the Old Pump Ground," or a half hundred drinking songs.

BRADLY WAS ONLY WITNESS

Washington, Nov. 22.—W. O. Bradley, of the treasury department was the only witness before the house judiciary committee today in the Judge Charles Swayne hearing. He testified to the correctness of the accounts of Judge Swayne which were charged at the rate of ten dollars a day while he was holding court outside of his district. The legal allowance is not to exceed $10 a day, the law providing that the judge shall have his actual expenses which are paid on his own certification. Attorney Higgins, for Judge Swayne, wanted to show that other judges charged
the full rate allowance, but the committee ruled that the action of other judges had no bearing upon the case of Judge Swayne. As no other witnesses were in attendance, the committee adjourned until tomorrow.

FOR ART LOVERS.

An exhibition of great pictures that will interest art lovers in this part of the country will be in progress at the Toledo Museum of Art from November 28th until December 20th. Some of the most famous pictures in the world
will be on exhibition, including the celebrated picture, "The Russian Wedding Feast," by Makovski. This great picture is one of the best known pictures of modern times. Only two other pictures are perhaps as well known, those being "The Angelus" by Millet, and "The Horse Fair" by Rosa Bonheur. The picture belongs to the Schuman estate of New York, and when placed on exhibition earns a rental of $1,000 a week. Fifty thousand people viewed the picture when it was recently exhibited in Milwaukee. Twenty other pictures, some of them very large canvases, 20 by 15 feet, by celebrated European masters, will be exhibited at the same time together with many other interesting objects of art, including an exhibition of the famous Whistler etch-ings.

During this exhibition the Museum
will be open every morning, afternoon, evening and on Sunday.

On Legislation For Two

Council Proposes to Have Preliminary Routine Out of the Way
and Begin Work on Streets
in the Spring.

The city council met in regular session last night, President Newson and
all members being present at roll call.
Minutes of last meeting were read
and approved.

The engineer reported estimating
the cost of the proposed grading of east Market street, from the D. S.
railroad, east, at $1250, $1,000 of which may be charged to abutting property.
The report was received.

A number of new sidewalks were reported completed and were accepted.
The sewer committee recommended that the board of public services be requested to devise means for the construction of a sewer on Grand avenue, to connect with the C. & L.
M. depot.

Protest of Mrs. Henrietta Harper
against assessment made for the Cole
street and Lakewood avenue improvement, was referred to the solicitor,
engineer and finance committee.
Ordinance to authorize the board

of public service to continue the repair work on the public streets and
to appropriate funds to pay the cost of the work, was passed, on motion of Mr. Smith, with suspended rules.

Ordinance to construct a sewer in Franklin street from Madison avenue
to Scott street, was passed.

Ordinance to construct a sewer in Elm street from Charles street to Collett street, was passed.

Ordinance to assess property for the paving of Pine street from Market street to the Ottawa river, was passed. The total cost of the improvement, less that to be paid as the city's portion and that chargeable to the street railway company, aggregates
$4,352.96.

Motion by Mr. Fletcher to reconsider the resolution for the improvement of Pine street, south of the Ottawa river, which was vetoed by Mayor Robb, last June, was passed and the measure was re-passed over the mayor's veto. Ordinance for proposed paving of Elizabeth street between North and Market streets, was also re-passed.

Engineer was instructed to furnish an estimate of the cost to the city of the proposed Elizabeth street improvement.

today showing that in 105 counties in

against 792,666 bales for the same

as half bales, the number is 1,244,741

TWO

Games Have Been Booked

White Stars

To Play Heidelberg and Toledo.

Former Opens the Season
Monday of Next Week
and Toledo Dec. 23.

Collegiate Foot Ball Team in Fine
Trim For the Game With Celina
Thanksgiving—City League Bowling Scores.

The White Stars basket ball team
has two games booked between now and the holidays. Heidelberg University starts the ball to rolling next Monday evening, Nov. 28, and on December 23, the fast East Toledo
team will be the Christmas attraction.
As the foot ball season draws to a close the great indoor game is waking up and the sport will be on a greater plane than ever throughout the state. The amateur team that wins the championship of Ohio this year will have to go a fast pace and the White Stars have already shown
that they are equal to the demand.

It is the intention of the management to have at least one game a week, if it is possible to book teams.
and as a dance follows after each
game the double attraction promises to be well attended.

Collegiates in Fine Form.

Coach McLaughlin had the Collegiate foot ball team at signal practice
in the auditorium last night and the signals are responded to with amazing quickness. With good weight at guards and neatness of foot and splendid interference back of the line, Lima should be more than a match for the big fellows of Celina,
whose average weight is over 180 pounds. Celina has won her games by a steady advance through her opponents line, bucking the way gradually to the goal, but with the ball in Li-ma's possession there will be some fast end plays that make it necessary
for Celina to adopt something more than force and strength to prevent defeat.

There is every indication of a record
breaking crowd at the fair grounds.
Thursday, if the weather remains as it has during the past week, but foot ball games are never stopped on account of weather, the teams going into the contest in rain, mud or snow.
Nothing less than a cyclone will interfere with the great Thanksgiving day
game.

Spencerville vs. St. Marys.
Coach Weil, of Spencerville, who has drilled a crack team out of the material to be found in that town, has booked a game at St. Marys for Thanksgiving and is positive of adding more laurels to Allen county by defeating the aggregation on the banks of the reservoir. He was in Lima last night and is anxious to play a post season game with the collegiates for the championship of the county. The locals will leave the question in doubt,
however, as several of the team will have to leave the city on important business the latter part of the week.

Goes to Akron.
John Galvin, late with the Gazette,
leaves Wednesday for Akron, to take charge of the sporting department of the Beacon-Journal. Mr. Galvin is especially fitted for the position, as he is well up in athletics and handles
a bright pen. He possesses a fund of information of interest to those who follow the races, and his friends in

Lima feel confident that he will prove a valuable addition to the Beacon-Journal's staff.

Huntington, Va., Nov. 22.—Squire
Samuel Belville and Vostance J.
Sulitor were arrested and taken to Charleston today by a United States
marshall on the charge of obstructing
the United States mail. They are charged with having stopped a Baltimore & Ohio train several weeks ago
to make the arrest of a conductor.

BROKER SUSPENDED.

New York, Nov. 22.—The suspension of Alfred M. Lamar, doing brokerage and banking business on the Consolidated Exchange, has been announced on that exchange. His liabilities are about $125,000. His attorney believed Lamar would be able to resume in a few days. Lamar's trouble, the attorney believed, was probably due to ventures in mining business in Alaska and trolley ventures in Ohio.

WORK

Involved In Meeting
Demands of Army.

Can Hardly Be Comprehended by One Not In Touch.

Quartermaster General Strongly Recommends Some Increase in
His Clerical Force In Order
To Increase Efficiency.

Washington, Nov. 22.—General C.
F. Humphrey, quartermaster general,
in his annual report to the secretary
of war, says the enormous amount of work involved in meeting the needs
of the army, can hardly be comprehended by anyone not in close touch with the service. Continuing he says:
"This work, which would tax the best ability and energies of a force
numerically strong enough to permit
of giving it proper official attention at all points, has been made doubly onerous because of the inadequate
number of quartermasters now provided by law and the greatly depleted
civilian force in the quartermaster
general's office."

He then said:
"So important is the matter of the
efficient and expeditious transaction
of business in this office, and so embarrassed has the office been of late
because of a constantly decreasing
force, long since reduced in numbers
below what is absolutely necessary to actually prevent the great volume of work from falling in arrears that here, almost at the opening of the report, the quartermaster general strongly recommends some increase
in his clerical force and earnestly urges early favorable consideration
of the recommendation in the interest
of the proper and efficient administration of his office."

FARM GARDEN

PIG HOUSES.

Our Farm GARDEN Features Recommended by Prominent Breeders.

Hogs are notably affected by extremes of heat and cold and the character of their shelter will therefore depend on the locality. If the locality is one of severe winters warm quarters are a necessity and an extensive piggery may be erected. Four things should be especially considered in its construction—(1) light, (2) ventilation, (3) warmth and (4) cleanliness. Under cleanliness ease of cleaning and dryness must be regarded. A well drained location should be chosen. One that will give the hogs a good climb to reach it will provide needed exercise. The house should be on a north and south line, so that both sides may receive direct sunlight during a part of the day. John Cowie of Iowa recommends a house with a wide driveway, with pens six or eight feet square on either side opening into the driveway, and each pen provided with a window for light and ventilation. L. N. Bonham of Ohio recommends a house with a row of sleeping pens on either side of a cement floored alley, opening into feed pens floored with cement. The sleeping pens are floored with boards laid in gravel or cinders. Paving brick costs about twice as much as cement.

The first cut shows a rough sketch of a house arranged on plans similar to these. The pens are eight feet square. Each pen has two doors and a window. One door opens into the driveway and the other into the feed pen. If it is desired to protect the hogs from visitors it may be found well to dispense with the door into the driveway, in which case the latter need not be wider than necessary to permit driving through with a wagon. The windows open downward. Ventilators are provided in the roof. The feed rooms are located in either end of the house. They should be at least as large as the pens, and may be on either side of the driveway or extend entirely across the end of the house. In the latter case the driveway should be dispensed with or made wide enough to enable a wagon to turn around in it. The width of the driveway will therefore depend on the presence or absence of this middle feed room.

If no other means of ventilation than the windows is provided they should be so arranged that entering air currents will be directed upward when the windows are opened and direct drafts on the hogs avoided. The size of the house and its equipment will depend upon the size of the herd and the resources of the owner. Not more than fifty breeding hogs should be confined in one house. Sanitary considerations make a smaller number preferable. Arrangement of the pens will depend largely on climate and convenience. A very common plan is to have only the sleeping pens under cover, building feeding pens of the same size just outside the hog house and adjoining it. If these pens are doored substantially with concrete they will last well. If the floor is properly laid, fitting close to the posts and baseboards, there will be little danger of the hogs doing damage to the walls of the house by rooting, and rats will be prevented from burrowing under the walls.

The second cut shows this arrangement of pens for the house in the first cut. The advantage of this plan is that the sleeping and feeding pens are separate. The main part of the manure will be left in the outside pens and can easily be removed. If separate feeding of the pens is not necessary the outside feeding pens need have no partitions. This arrangement will doubtless be more convenient for those who breed only for market. The feeding pen connects with the pasture.

Where it is desirable to have both sleeping and feeding pens under cover the pens in the house can be enlarged. A convenient plan for such a pen is used by the Michigan Agricultural college. The pens are 8 by 16 feet. A false wooden floor is built of strong material, usually 2 by 4 inches, in two sections of equal size. This false floor is made small enough to fit conveniently into the pen and rests on cleats in the bottom of the pen. As a rule, only one section of the floor is used at a time, this part of the pen being bedded and used as a sleeping pen and the remaining part being used as the feeding floor.

Philadelphia may be slow, but the pumpkin credited to a West Philadelphia is certainly up to date and would be a prize winner anywhere—5 feet 7 inches circumference, 200 pounds weight, and still growing at the time of writing.

CHEAP SHEEP SHEDS.

Mr. Jamison of Ohio has found a covering of Fodder satisfactory. Five years ago, not having straw to cover a necessary temporary stock shed, Mr. Jamison suggested that I use fodder as it was then called. The frame that was used has been covered yearly since and has been found the most satisfactory cheap shed I ever used. With the fodder of good quality and put on carefully it will come off in the spring with very little waste by spoiling, says John M. Jamison in the National Stockman.

This shed is 200 feet long, 16 feet wide and extends south from the southwest corner of a barn shed. This gives both sides of the roof the same weather exposure. The rafters on the west side rest on the top rail against the posts of a post and rail fence. The top of this rail is about four feet from the ground, as are the tops of posts on the other side of the shed. Nine feet is a very good distance apart for the rafters and about right when eleven foot fence rails are used to lay across them for the fodder to rest on.

The center posts are nine feet high and would be better if they were a foot or two higher. A white oak pole makes an excellent post and should be six or seven inches in diameter at the butt after the bark is off. If a seven inch post auger can be used to bore the post holes about three feet deep the posts will fit the holes closely and remain firm.

On top of the post can be spiked a pole or other piece of timber for the rafters to rest on. The rafters should have notches cut in both ends to fit on top of posts and on top of rail or pole at top of shed. The cracks in fence on west side of my shed are closed by boards nailed over them to keep sheep from eating fodder set against the fence to keep out the wind.

The rails or poles used to lay the fodder on should be spiked in place. If durable timber is used the poles will last for years. Along the west side against the fence I place a course of bundle fodder, putting a bundle down and laying the top of the next bundle upon it. Laid so this course will be about three feet high. Against this I set a course of bundles, pressing the tops against and bending them over the top of the fence. With this done, I am ready for the first course of bundles on the roof on that side. This extends out over the fodder setting against the fence and binds the tops of it down on the top rail. In bundling the fodder I use binder twine strings cut four and a half feet long, then a loop tied in one end and slip the other end through when tying the bundle. The string should be put around a little above the center of the bundle. This gives a better chance to place the bundle properly and have the string covered by the next course.

When putting on the roof it is best to start all the courses at the same end. I commence each course at the north end, finishing at the south end; then, when taken off, commence at south end, and each bundle comes off free. Put on in this way it is only necessary to protect against the wind by fastening a few bundles at the south end. To cover my shed it requires about 150 shocks of fodder cut fourteen hills square, about eight bundles to the shock, and 1,200 for the roof. One row of bundles for the first course on my shed has always turned the water after the roof settles.

As my center posts are not high enough, I have to give the roof more pitch by putting fodder under each succeeding course after the first. When the roof is settled the fodder is three or more feet deep on the eave. Here the prevailing winds come from the west; hence the top course on the east side is put on first. Then the finishing course on the west side prevents the east side course from blowing off.

Three men, if the fodder is convenient, can put this roof on in a day, but it can better be done at intervals as the fodder is ready and in good shape to handle.

School Gardens.
Yonkers, N. Y., has a "school garden" in which 240 enthusiastic boys have this year been learning to grow "truck" under the care of an experienced gardener. There are also two smaller gardens, in which girls are taught the art of growing flowers. So successful have these gardens been that they will be maintained on an extensive scale next season.

IRRIGATION METHODS.

Preparing Land to Receive Water—A Plow for Excavating Ditches.

Interest in irrigation methods and practices is by no means confined to the really arid regions of the west. The advantages of a controlled water supply are often made convincingly apparent in humid regions. It is claimed that in regions of the heaviest average rainfall irrigation in dry years has very well repaid market gardeners and farmers.

The art of irrigation in this country has naturally heretofore given more consideration to canals and reservoirs, the division and conveyance of water, than to its distribution and application to the soil. The time is coming when the most important problems connected with irrigation will be the needs of the plant as regards moisture, and not, as at present, those of storage and conveyance. An interesting report has recently been made to the office of experiment stations by Dr. Elwood Mead, the expert, which covers the matter of preparing land for irrigation and the methods of applying water. Dr. Mead gives high credit to the comparatively small number of farmers in this country who have devised the present methods of using water.

Among methods of preparing land for irrigation the building of laterals as carried on in Colorado and Wyoming is described as follows:

In building laterals the first thing to be considered is the lay of the land over which the water must be made to flow. Judging the true slope of ground by the naked eye is very uncertain, for even the most experienced are often deceived as to whether the surface of the land rises or falls in a given direction. Where possible every system of laterals should be laid out with an engineer's level and a contour map made of the whole area. In lieu of the services of a surveyor the irrigator may lay out his own laterals, using one of the many types of homemade leveling devices. The average grade for field laterals should vary from one-half inch to one inch per rod, depending upon the nature of the soil.

No special devices are manufactured and put upon the market for building laterals, and farmers have been obliged to depend upon their own ingenuity. The following device was constructed to simplify the work of excavating ditches. Two steel beam plows, one with a right and the other with a left share, were placed side by side and their beams riveted together. The shares of the plows were spread to give the furrows a width of two feet on the bottom. The rear ends of the shares were rounded instead of being drawn to the usual point. Above the moldboards of the plows and riveted to them were placed the right and left moldboards of old alfalfa plows. The handles bolted to the lower moldboards were spread wider than in the ordinary plow and were braced to the beams. The beams running side by side were bent apart toward the end, affording an opening wide enough to insert a 4 by 4 inch timber two feet long, which is bolted in place and on which the cleaves are fastened.

This plow is drawn by from four to eight horses, according to the character of the ground and depth of the lateral to be made. In one operation it turns two furrows to opposite sides of the ditch and throws them high on the bank, leaving an unusually clean bottom about two feet in width. Many plows of different sizes, similar to this, made entirely on the farm or with the help of the village blacksmith, may be seen about Greeley, Colo. Another homemade furrowing device is the so-called "A," which is drawn through an ordinary plow furrow and crowds the loose earth to the sides.

AGRICULTURAL PROGRESS.

A Lively Interest in Forestry, Rural Engineering and Other Matters.

By B. BENJAMIN Jr.

Washington, D. C.—The awakened interest in forestry in this country has created an extensive demand for information on the subject. In particular large numbers of inquiries are made to the bureau of forestry at Washington by men who think of taking up forestry as a profession. A circular of information for such persons has been issued, and, in addition, the bureau undertakes to answer, willingly all questions that are not covered by this. The only position in the bureau of forestry open to those whose training in forestry is incomplete is that of forest student, and it is clearly announced by the bureau that work as a forest student does not in itself constitute a stepping stone to higher positions in the bureau of forestry, but forms a part only of the training useful in fitting a man for the profession of forestry.

Forest students are, as a rule, appointed for the field season only, which varies from three to six months or more. No applicant under twenty years of age is eligible for appointment as forest student. Men, therefore, who are already advanced in the study of forestry, either at a forest school or elsewhere, and who are in other respects well qualified stand the best chance of appointment.

Forest students in the field are placed under the supervision of trained foresters in the execution of technical forest work. They receive no formal instruction in forestry, but have in the daily work abundant opportunity to learn.

New Interest in the Potato.

Second to wheat alone as food for mankind the potato is said to be, and therefore it deserves whatever good the department of agriculture may bring about by its recently undertaken investigations and experiments for the improvement of this tuber. As is well known to every farmer, blight or rot is the worst trouble of the potato grower. An agent of the department who is in Europe is sending over specimens of every foreign variety that may prove valuable here. Several varieties believed to be immune to rot have been received. Among these is a wild plant of which the foliage has so disagreeable an odor that even the potato bug prefers other pastures. The department will experiment in crossing this wild potato with a number of standard American varieties in the hope of obtaining hybrids resistant to the diseases that annually diminish the potato crop.

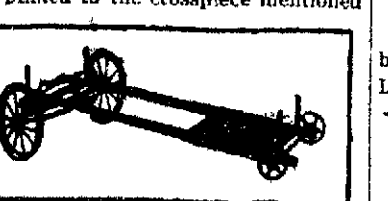

A great merit of the Uruguayan potato, Solanum commersonii, which is just now much talked about, is its resistance to disease, and it is hoped that by cultivation and crossing it with American varieties its decidedly bitter taste may be removed.

"The Little Peach" Disease.
"Little peach" is well known and dreaded by the peach growers of certain regions. As implied by the name, this disease produces a dwarfing of the fruit, so that a tree that bears handsome fruit one year may the next produce only small and miserable specimens slow in ripening and poorly colored. The leaves, too, are dwarfed and yellow. In Maryland the trouble is also known as the "go back." For the past few years that the disease has become a serious thing growers have been trying to ascertain its cause. The most they have been able to establish is that it apparently originates in the underground portion of the trees, and the only remedy in an orchard is the quick removal and destruction of affected trees. Whatever further light a forthcoming report by Professor M. B. Waite of the department of agriculture may give will be welcomed by peach growers.

Rural Engineering in the Fore.
A growing demand exists for more and better instruction in rural engineering, including drainage and irrigation, and many schools are establishing such courses. The Iowa, the Wisconsin and the Minnesota agricultural colleges have new and fine buildings for their departments of rural engineering or farm mechanics, and the Illinois and North Dakota colleges give special attention to this subject.

The Rhode Island Agricultural college announces this year for the first time a four year course in highway engineering, "intended to meet a definite and growing demand for men competent to build better roads." This is probably the first course of the kind ever offered in an American college.

Low Truck For Drawing Fodder.
This low truck for drawing fodder from the field is made from the front part of an ordinary farm wagon. A strong oak reach about a foot long replaces the longer one. To the rear end of this is bolted an iron clevis that holds a crosspiece, as shown in the cut. For the platform two poles fifteen feet long are used. At two feet from the upper end holes are bored, and they are pinned to the crosspiece mentioned above, the ends resting on the bolster about two inches from the standards. The rear wheels are fifteen inches in diameter, put on an iron axle, the whole taken from old farm machinery. Being so near the ground, it is best to board up the lower end of the poles for five or six feet. This is for the benefit of new readers and old ones who have overlooked it when published a few years ago, remarks Farm Journal.

THE REAL TEST

of Herpelide is in Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any medicine and that is by its ability to do what it is intended to do. Many cures may look nice and small but at the point of use they eradicate the germ and stop falling hair.

No, they do not, but Herpelide does because it goes to the root of the hair and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair grows.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Herpelide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

Country Leads in Deposits.

Fine Showing

Made by the Common People.

Total Savings Deposits in All World Over Ten Billions.

With Less Than 9 1-2 Percent of Population of World, We Have 29 percent of the Above Amount.

The total deposits in all the savings banks of the world, according to latest official information received by the Department of Commerce and Labor, through its bureau of statistics, amounted to over 10 1/2 billion dollars, contributed by 32,540,000 depositors. Of this total, the United States shows aggregate deposits of $3,060,179,000, credited to 7,305,000 depositors. As the figures used in arriving at the grand totals cover about one-half of the population of the world, viz, over 770 million, it appears that the United States, with less than 9 1/2 per cent of the total population considered, contributes over 29 per cent of the total savings deposits recorded. Of the total number of depositors, or rather deposit accounts, the share of the United States is somewhat less than 5 per cent, while the average deposit per account is more than four times and the average savings per inhabitant more than three and one-half times the corresponding averages for the rest of the world.

It is interesting to note that in Europe and even in Canada the functions of the government in this field are larger than in this country, where the state restricts itself merely to formulating the general legislation pertaining to the subject, sanctioning special charters for the creation of saving banks, and controlling through special officers the proper workings of said bank. The European governments in many cases have shown greater interests in this mode of popular saving, either by guaranteeing the safety of deposits or by instituting government institutions, chiefly postal savings banks, for the receiving and managing of savings deposits. In some countries, such as Russia, Bulgaria and Romania, the lack of private initiative and the preponderating influence of the state in the entire economic life of the nation have caused the development of public savings banks to an almost exclusive extent; in other countries, such as Germany, Switzerland, and France, the local public bodies, such as the communes or cantons, from the very outset invited and fostered the deposits of small savings by establishing municipal savings institutions. Where ever the central government is in immediate, though not exclusive, in the United Kingdom, Belgium, and Russia parts of the deposits are invested in government securities, so that the public savings institutions there serve the double purpose of providing a safe investment for the capital of the less well-to-do and commercially inexperienced class of the population, as well as of strengthening the public credit of the country by attracting investments on the part of such classes, which, left to their own initiative, might not choose this, or for that matter any other mode of investment.

The common feature of all savings banks, no matter how organized, is that they are not working for profit, the underlying idea being rather to make the deposits as secure as possible. This results naturally in an interest rate on deposits considerably below the normal commercial rate prevailing in the respective countries. The figures as shown in the table below reveal different degrees of what might be termed the "saving capacity" of the different nations, though

To Make a Strike the Chuloso chews Colgan's Tally Tolu (The Good Old-fashioned Kind of Gum). It prevents thirst. Be a Chuloso.

It should always be borne in mind that the amounts deposited with savings banks by no means represent the only savings of the nation. Another factor which makes comparisons difficult is the fact that apart from differences in legislation, leaving these institutions a greater or smaller latitude of freedom of investment, the regulations regarding the maximum amounts which may be credited to one individual vary according to country, and that therefore the average size of the savings deposit casts but little light on the general prosperity of the people and the more or less equitable distribution of wealth among them.

The general social conditions of a country, the spread of general education and "banking" habits among the masses, existing facilities of communication, the ease and lack of formalities with which savings are made, and last but not least the use made by the population of other modes of saving—all these factors have to be considered when international comparisons of savings statistics are attempted. To give but a few examples: The total savings deposits of France, as stated in the table appear less than those of Austria, while the aggregate savings deposits of Prussia are shown to exceed those of France by almost 80 per cent. Any conclusions with regard to the relative prosperity of these countries based on these figures would be erroneous, as in France the savings banks deposits constitute but a part, and by no means the larger part, of the total savings of the nation. As a matter of fact, the investments of the French people in Russian public bonds during the most recent period only, not to mention the holdings of the enormous national debt at home, according to the most conservative estimates exceed by far the amounts deposited in national savings institutions. In the case of Austria the figures given are somewhat misleading, since the postal savings banks there are engaged in the general banking business, the amounts reported as ordinary deposits exceeding those reported under the head of savings deposits.

With all these restrictions and interpretation clauses the figures given below are interesting as showing the wonderful results obtained in this field, through ingenious organization on the one hand and the spread of thrift and saving habits among the large masses.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had, and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

TRACK NOTES.

B. & O. Elects Officers.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 22.—The 28th annual meeting of the stockholders of the Baltimore and Ohio Railway was held in this city yesterday. The following directors were elected, Edward R. Bacon, John P. Green, Edward H. Harriman, James McCrea, Sutherland M. Prevost, Samuel Spear, Norman, Jacob H. Schiff, James Speir, Chas. Steel and James Stillman. Geo. F. Randolph, first vice president of the company, was selected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John K. Cowen. The selection of Mr. Randolph to fill this vacancy is taken as indicative of the policy of the stockholders to keep within the company a very large extent its management and control.

Big Bond Purchase. New York, Nov. 22.—Kuhn, Loeb & Co., announced today the purchase of $15,000,000 Pennsylvania Co. four and one-half per cent trust certificates which are secured by deposits or guaranteed special stocks of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railway Co., guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the Pennsylvania Co.

Detroit Southern Talk. "For the first time since the preferred stock of the Detroit Southern railroad was marked up last week to the extravagant price of 30% for a bankrupt property, the re-organization committee yesterday issued a statement, which notified owners of stock deposited with the Colonial Trust Co. that a re-organization plan was about to be announced, in which they deposited stock would participate," says the New York Herald.

"The high price of the preferred had tempted the actual owners of the stock to withdraw their holdings and sell them in the open market. Notwithstanding the announcement of a re-organization by new interests, Detroit Southern preferred broke 2 1/2 points Saturday.

"The official notice which was signed by John E. Borne, F. J. Lisman and D. G. Boissevain, read: 'Accompanying the recent rise in the market price of the stock, inquiries have been made of the committee as to whether the stock on deposit with the Colonial Trust Co., under the agreement dated July 7, 1904, may be withdrawn. In answer to such inquiries the committee begs to state that, while depositors desiring to do so are at liberty to withdraw their stock, a plan of re-organization is now being prepared by parties other than the undersigned, which, it is expected, will be announced within a few days, and that all depositors whose stock is then with the committee will be permitted to participate in the plan.'"

"In some usually well informed quarters it was reported that the 'new interests' in reality represented the members of a bituminous coal association along the line of the Detroit Southern, who obtained at the time the Detroit Southern was formed, a long-time option on sufficient stock to control the property and keep it from falling into the hands of a greater system. According to this story the members of this association have exercised their option, and the persons who were obligated to deliver the stock were not in a position to do so.

"Mr. Lisman refused to 'confirm or deny' this story.

"It is the general opinion that any re-organization will involve an assessment on the stock, and one story rather generally believed was that the stock had been marked up for the purpose of its sentimental effect upon stockholders, in inducing them to pay the assessment. There was also a report that some of the leading interests in the property had been short of the stock and had been forced to cover at a high figure. This story was not generally credited.

"Owing to the inability of the Detroit Southern to meet its interest obligations a plan was devised for funding five coupons on its first mortgage bonds. A statement was issued at the time, which was substantiated last week by the publication of the annual report, showing that the company was in a pitiful condition. Among other things it was stated that the water along the line was so bad that the road's locomotives could not be kept in repair except at enormous expense."

A POLICEMAN'S TESTIMONY. J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashville, Tenn., writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world."

EXIT

Another Big Sensation.

Court Records

Disclose Facts Relating to Mattie Mox

Who Died at the Toledo Asylum Nov. 8 Was Buried in Potter's Field.

Subject of the Gazette's Sensation Was Abandoned By Relatives at Poor House and Taken to the Asylum.

Probate Judge Miller expressed his open indignation concerning the Gazette's attempt to be sensational this morning, regarding the supposed mystery surrounding Mattie Mox, an inmate of the Toledo asylum.

The Gazette asks the question in the introduction of the article referred to, "Is Mattie Mox dead?" If not, where is she? According to Judge Miller, the reporter who opened a pepper box full of interrogation marks, could have had all of his dark secrets exposed by a simple reference to the probate court records.

The fact is not disputed that Mattie Mox is dead, and an entry in the insane docket shows that she died at the asylum on the 8th of the present month. There is no secret about it, and no mystery. She was an inmate of the county poor house, abandoned and neglected by whatever relatives or friends she might have had. While at the institution her mind failed and she was taken to the asylum, after a proper hearing before Probate Judge Miller, May 27, 1904.

Later, news came of an illness that promised to result fatally, but during the proceedings attending her transfer from the poor house to Toledo, none of her relatives appeared to show an interest in her fate. If there was anyone living who had such an interest, they were not known to Judge Miller, and efforts to locate such a person failed. It was then that the court notified the authorities at Toledo that the body would not be claimed here, and it was interred in the potters' field connected with the asylum.

BUILDINGS COMPLETED.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 22.—With the exception of the government building which has hardly more than begun, and the Forestry building which will be under roof within a week, the principal buildings of the Lewis and Clark fair are to all intents and purposes completed. A few hours work in any of them is all that is necessary to put them in condition to receive exhibits. Some of the minor buildings are not so far advanced, but these and "The Trail" with the connecting bridge of nations leading to the site of the government buildings will have reached a stage nearing completion by the first of next year.

Indication at present would seem to warrant the belief that the exposition will be nearer completion on June 1 than on the opening day of any of the world's fairs which have preceded it.

SPIDER BITE PROVED FATAL.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 22.—A spider bite proved fatal to Charles Esdorf, aged thirty, who died in a hospital today. Esdorf's head swelled to twice its normal size and he died in great agony.

One night in the early part of last week, Esdorf was awakened at his home, 118 Bolivar street by a stinging sensation in one eye. Instinctively his hand went to the eye and he brushed a large spider from his face.

He bathed the eye, the only injury to which that could be seen being a red spot the size of a pin head. Esdorf went back to bed. When he awoke the eye was badly swollen. The swelling continued to increase until death came as a relief to his suffering.

BIDS

Will Be Hurried Through

By the Board

In Order to Complete New High School.

Discussion Led to Demand for a Decision by City Solicitor Bently

And His Ultimatum Gives Board the Right to Proceed With All Work Considered Urgent.

The absence of several members of the board of education last night was more than made up by the presence of a number of interested parties who expect something out of improvements yet to be made in completing the new high school.

The board is unanimous in its desire to have the approaches to the building laid with stone, and made the full width of the entrances, and in view of that proposition Architect Chapin was present last night with perfected plans, and they were adopted.

Solicitor Harry Bently was enjoying the performance at Faurot's opera house, but a decision on the length of time necessary to advertise for bids was a necessity, and he was dragged forth to the meeting. He maintained that his former decision, that a week sufficient when it could be shown that the improvement was an urgent necessity, and the board thereupon held that the blackboards, walk, furniture and laboratory equipment all came under that head. It is the intention, therefore, to follow out the decision of the solicitor and lose no time in accepting bids for the necessities named.

The present board is desirous of providing for all that is needed to complete the new building, before the new board takes a hand, and all work will now be rushed to get it completed within the time specified by the contractors, the first of January.

Aside from the generous discussion on the needed equipment, very little business of importance was transacted. The salaries of teachers and officers were allowed for the month, and some book bids were also included by the finance committee. Clerk Disman was instructed to insert the advertisement for bids and the board adjourned.

EXPLAINING TO MR. BRYAN.

William Jennings Bryan, while making his recent stump tour found he would be compelled to wait half an hour or more for his train. Taking a seat in the waiting room he drew forth a cigar and lighted it. Just then a porter entered, and, pointing to a sign, said:

"I beg your pardon, sir, but you see that smoking is not allowed in this room."

"Well," replied Mr. Bryan, "I suppose that rule is not always strictly enforced?"

"Oh, no, sir; neither is the one alongside of it," said the man, with a grin.

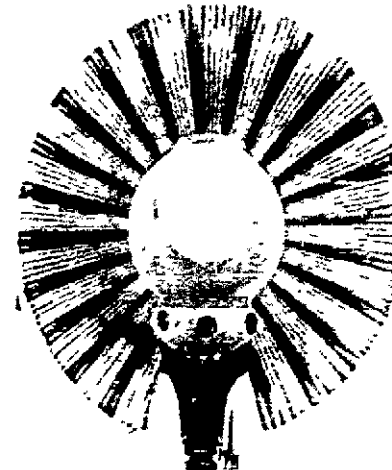

The orator glanced at it and read: "Employees of this railway are not permitted to accept tips."

Mr. Bryan finished his cigar undisturbed.—Louisville Times.

Was Given John Hunton at Zanesville Yesterday.

Alleged That He Had a Grievance Against the Parties in Whose Building He Was Found.

John H. Hunton Jr., formerly of this city, who was arrested at Roseville, O., yesterday and taken to Zanesville, on a charge of attempted incendiarism, was given a preliminary hearing shortly after the arrival at Zanesville and the defendant was bound over to the grand jury.

It is alleged that Hunton was arrested in the building which he is charged with an attempt to burn. It is also alleged that Hunton had a personal grievance against the owners of the building.

GIRLS

Should Take Heed to Warning

From Prisoner

Who Is Now Suffering and Repenting.

Pathetic Letter Received From a Lima Girl Who Is in Work House.

An Alleged Overcoat Thief Captured at Ottawa—Another Wayward Girl Taken to the Toledo Works.

The parents of Miss Goldie Young, the young woman who was sent to the Toledo work house from mayor's court several days ago for residing in a disorderly house, have received a letter from their daughter, assuring them that she has firmly determined to lead a better life after she is released from the prison. The letter was written Sunday, the only day on which prisoners in the Toledo institution are permitted to write, and contains many paragraphs of good advice for young girls who are about to fall into the rut of vice that led to Miss Young's arrest and sentencing to the work house. The girl's letter is a pathetic one in the extreme. She knows that she will still be a sad-hearted prisoner behind the sombre walls of the gloomy work house on Thanksgiving day, and appeals to her parents to have one of her dear sisters occupy her place at the dinner table on that day.

It is to be hoped that the repenting young woman will be encouraged in her determination to lead a better life in the future and that the scores of other young girls in Lima who are venturing dangerously near the chasm which engulfed this unhappy young woman, will profit by the lesson her deplorable experience teaches.

Returned to Toledo.

Ethel Goodenough, a wayward girl whose wrong-doings are believed to be prompted by an unbalanced mind rather than a rational fault, was taken back to the Toledo work house by detective Patton this afternoon.

She will be required to serve out the sentence of thirty days imprisonment which was suspended upon her promise, made a week or two ago, to return to the home of her parents and remain there. Efforts to have the girl sent to an asylum have failed and she must be imprisoned either in the county jail, city prison or the Toledo work house.

Bold Overcoat Theft.

When Pennsylvania passenger train No. 22 pulled up to the depot in this city last night, a man alighted, accompanied by a little girl. The man walked up to one of the coach windows and after rapping on the glass requested the passenger who opened the window, to hand him an overcoat that was hanging on the opposite side of the car. The passenger supposed the coat belonged to the man on the platform and he passed it through the window to him. Later the owner of the coat reported his loss and detective Anderson, of the railroad police department apprehended and arrested the alleged thief and found the coat at Ottawa. Detective Patton will bring the prisoner, who gives the name of Charles Harley, to this city tonight.

Hearing Held Today.

The youths named Michael Macie, Wm. McCarty and Van Cronley against whom Conductor Clapsaddle of the C. & L. M. railroad, filed complaints yesterday, were arrested last evening and their cases were set for hearing before the mayor this afternoon.

EVANGELIST RANTON.

"What's In a Name?" was Evangelist Ranton's subject last night at Trinity church. His text was that verse in the Acts that speaks of the disciples being called Christians. Mr. Ranton evidently holds to a high ideal of a Christian. He leaves no place for meanness. The evangelist captures the hearts of all who hear his. Tonight he will speak on "Three Great Words." The meeting begins at 7:30 sharp, but those who wish a good seat should come earlier.

FILL

Your Coal Bins and Do It Quickly.

Veteran "Goose Bone" Weather Prophet Say We Are Approaching a Severe Winter.

Elias Hartz, the veteran "Goose Bone Prophet," of Reading, Pa., has made his annual prediction. His announcement was awaited with interest by scores of persons who have much more faith in his prediction than in the weather bureau at Washington or the time honored almanacs. "Fill your coal bins and do it quickly, for we are going to have a severe winter," is his latest warning. Just before predicting Mr. Hartz received a breast bone from a young goose hatched last spring. The bone is greatly discolored, dark lines covering both sides. Few light spots are shown. The heavy dark lines indicate a severe winter beginning early in November and lasting until late in the spring.

The light spots indicate a short duration of mild weather. Mr. Hartz said:

"I have been making my predictions from the goose bone 65 years, and never once have I missed. I have great faith in the goose bone. I was taught to read it when a young man and have followed its lines ever since. The bone I secured this fall is dark in color, and we will have a severe winter. Those who have not done so had better lay in a good supply of coal and wood, for they will need it. My predictions that last winter would be a severe one was correct, and the bone of this year is still darker than that of last fall. There will be numerous heavy snowstorms and an immense ice crop."

THE IDLER.

The Catholic Knights of America are in session in Columbus, discussing the advisability of increasing the order's insurance rates.

Mr. C. A. Shock, a German township young man, who is looking after the valuable telephone interests of Lima gentlemen in Texas, in writing one of them yesterday, commiserated him on the late election result in Allen county, and enclosed the following clipping concerning the way they view the general result in Texas:

"Somewhere the sun shines bright and people are all gay; no doubt their laughter rings out clear and little children play; but here the sun shines not at all, nor rings a glad-some shout; we go our ways submerged in gloom since Parker has struck out—Gainesville Register.

It is more than a mere rumor that congratulations will soon be in order by friends of one of Lima's popular merchant tailors and a young lady living on West Market street. To announce the event openly would be to interfere with plans yet to be consummated and violate the confidence of one who is in on the secret.

KEEN FROSTS ARE REPORTED

From All Parts of the United Kingdom and Heavy Storms Raging.

London, Nov. 22.—Keen frost and heavy snow squalls are reported from all parts of the United Kingdom. A gale raged all night long over the coasts driving vessels to shelter and seriously dislocating the telegraph wires, especially in the north of England and in Scotland. Blinding snow storms are causing deep drifts and rendering traffic difficult in the country districts and necessitating a cessation of out door work in many of the provincial towns.

In London little snow has fallen, but a sharp fall in temperature is accentuating the distress among the poor which is already prevalent. The snow is so deep at Chatsworth that the King of Portugal and others of the house party there have been prevented from shooting. Some small craft have been wrecked. Up to the present time November had been unusually mild and the sudden change is causing much misery.

Winter weather seems general in Europe, frost being reported as far south as Naples.

In West Mooreland, the unusual sight was seen of trains stuck in snow drifts and blocking communication on the Northeastern railroad. The race meeting at Warwick had to be postponed as the track was deeply covered with snow.

The land lines in Ireland are affected, causing delay in communication with America.
